TERRANOVA GIRL'S COUNSEL APPEALS TO UNWRITTEN LAW

"Every Woman Inherits the Right to Defend Her Honor, Her Home and Her Name!" Cries Counsel in Opening for Defense.

TERRANOVA GIRL'S COUNSEL APPEALS TO UNWRITTEN LAW.

There is a higher law than the law of the land and the law of the statute books. No woman relinquishes her right to defend her honor, her name, her home and her virtue. She inherits that right and you cannot take it from her.—Ex-Judge Palmieri, in opening defense of Josephine Terranova.

The terrible story of Josephine Terranova's wrongs—the life of shame and drudgery forced upon her by her uncle and aunt which finally led to the madness in which she stabbed to death both of her heartless relatives—was told to the jury of fathers in Justice Scott's court-room to-day. Ex-Judge Palmieri, counsel for the girl, told it in his opening address. The girl herself, he promised, would tell it more fully, and her husband and others would corroborate it. The address was a plea of insanity, a degenerate mind due to diseased and drunken parentage, and abuse, and sudden fury of madness caused by a realization of her wrongs. It was also an appeal to the unwritten law. "There is a higher law than the law of the land, than the law of the statute books," said Mr. Palmieri. "No woman relinquishes the right to defend her honor, her name, her home and her virtue. She inherits that right and you cannot take it from her." The accused girl wept silently as her counsel told the story of how she was brought here from Italy at the age of ten years by her uncle and aunt, who were her sponsors in baptism; (Continued on Third Page.)

RAILROAD RATE BILL PASSES IN THE SENATE

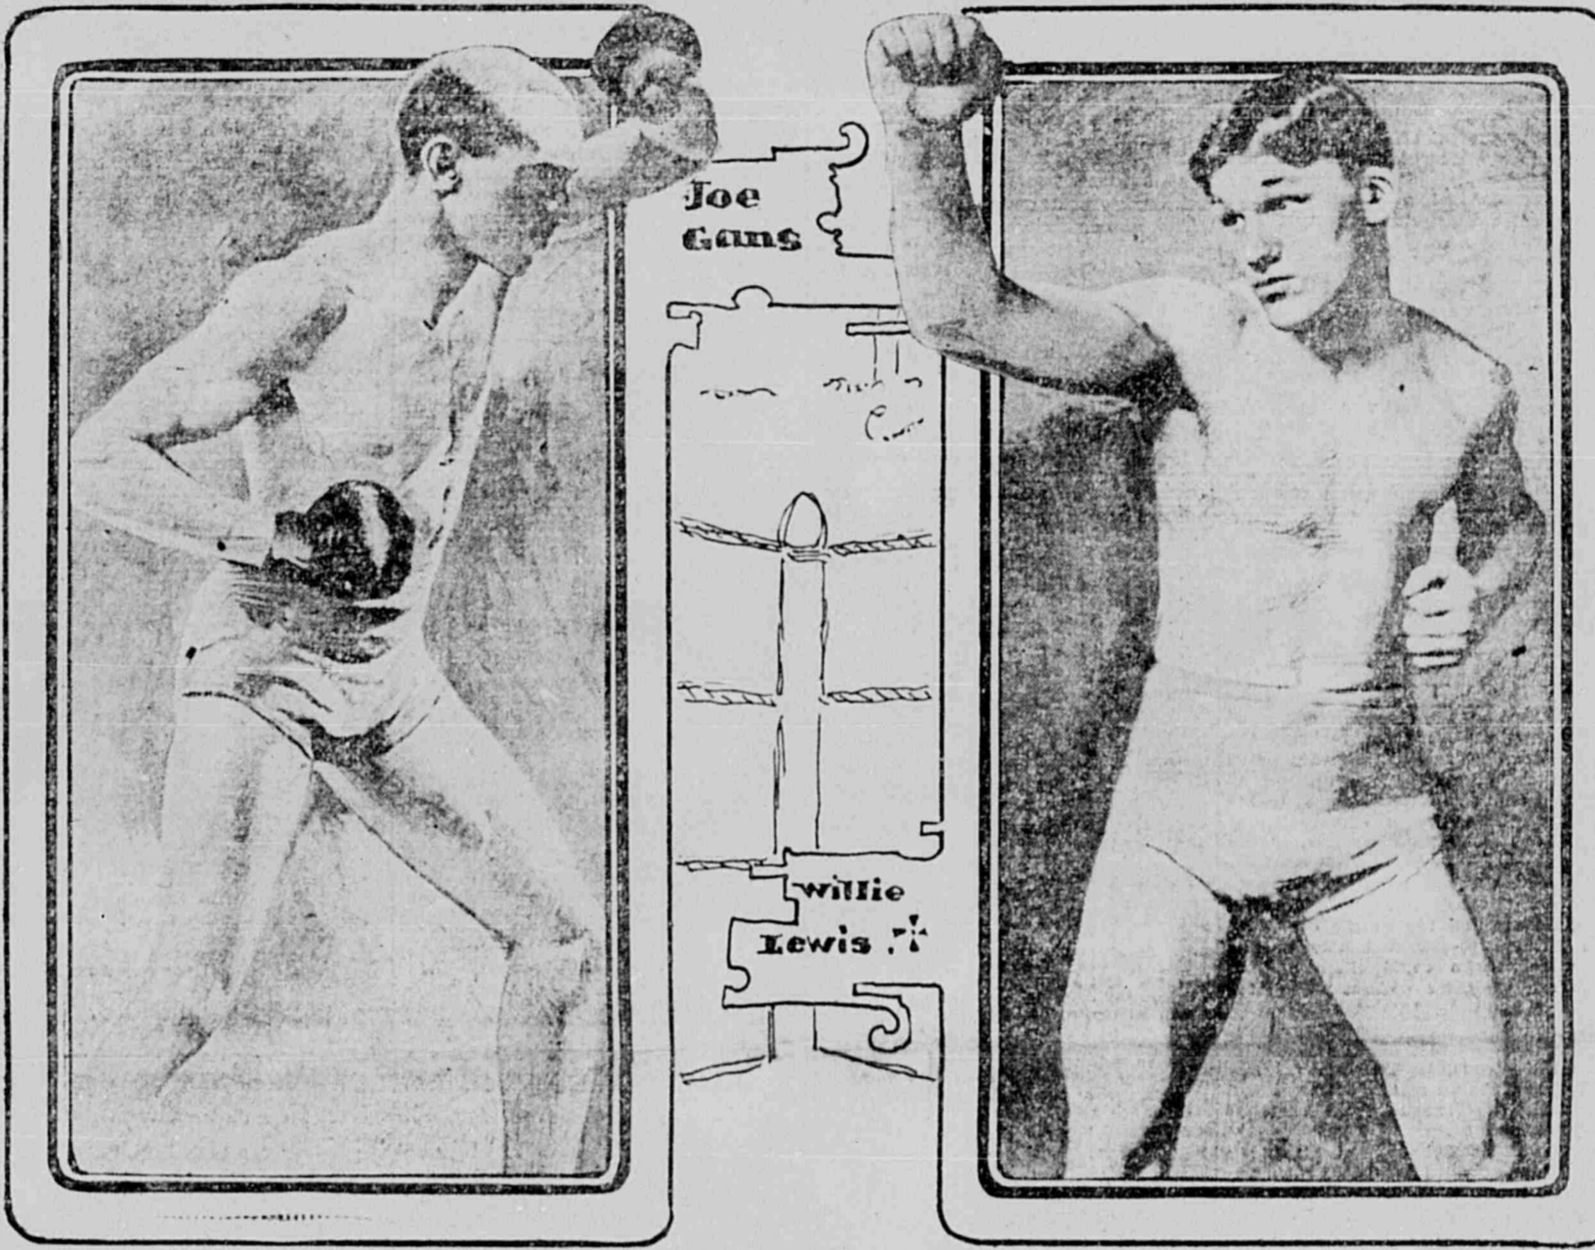

Only Three Votes Against While 71 Are in Its Favor.

(Special to The Evening World.) WASHINGTON, May 18.—The Senate shortly before 5 o'clock this afternoon passed the Railroad Rate bill giving the Interstate Commerce Commission the power to fix rates if they are found to be unreasonable after an investigation. The vote was 71 to 3. Foraker, Morgan and Pettus voting against it. The bill now goes to conference, where the difference between the bill as it passed the House and Senate will be harmonized. Announcement was made that every Senator who was absent would vote for the bill if present. When the Rate bill was taken up the Senate resumed consideration of the Teller amendment, striking out of the provision giving to the Interstate Commerce Commission the power to pegger the rates the words "in its judgment." After a lengthy debate the words "in its judgment" were ordered stricken out by a vote of fifty years to twenty-four nayes.

(Special to The Evening World.) EXPOSITION PARK, PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 17.—In one of the most exciting games of ball seen here in years the Giants were again defeated to-day by a score of 7 to 0, the Pirates went after Matthewson like a cyclone from the jump, and pounded the premier pitcher for a total of fourteen hits. This clip son cut down the Champions' lead and they were nosed out in the ninth inning. The Giants had a chance to win, but Wagner by a phenomenal one handed stop made a double play off Marshall's grounder and the game was gone. Lynch started out, but was sent back to the slab in four innings, the Giants hitting him all over the lot. Ten thousand fans went wild over the victory and carried several of the victorious Pirates away on their shoulders.

First Inning. Wagner threw out Brennan without loss of time. Browne was more fortunate and laced a hot one over second for a single. Marshall died on a long line drive to Meier. Browne then stole second but Mertes rolled a grounder to Sheehan, retiring the side. NO RUNS. Meier died on a grounder to Gilbert and Gansley failed to locate the ball. Dahlen threw Lynch out. NO RUNS. Second Inning. Sheehan fumbled Dahlen's sharp rip, but quickly recovered and threw Ball out. Dahlen hit the next one an awful (Continued on Second Page.)

ARTFUL OUT, PUBLIC LOSES OVER $165,000

With Mare Scratched from Brooklyn Handicap Bookies Grow Rich.

BY T. O. PIPER.

BELMONT PARK RACE TRACK. May 18.—Artful, the crack four-year-old mare and the only horse that ever beat Synobly, and favorite for the Brooklyn Handicap at 1-2 to 1, has been declared out of that race. Mr. Whitney said to-day that, although the great mare had worked a fast mile at Brookdale, Trainer Rogers was not satisfied that the mare was just right. He will now point her for the Suburban. Withdrawals Cost Public Fortune. By the withdrawal of the favorite, Artful, from the Brooklyn Handicap and Roschen as well, together with other well played and favored horses, the public loses an estimated amount of $165,000 invested in the five winter prices on the entries, but the largest operating book was that of "Kid" (Continued on Second Page.)

Great Crowd Expected to See First Championship Battle in New York Since Days of Horton Law.

HOLDER OF TITLE IS 2 TO 1 FAVORITE OVER LEWIS

Both Men Are Confident and Six-Round Battle Promises to Be a Classic—East Side Backs Challenger to Fight His Way to Victory.

A crowd that will tax the capacity of Madison Square Garden is assured for the great boxing match between Willie Lewis and Jo Gans to-night. Applications for membership in the Twentieth Century Athletic Club have been pouring in so fast that the officers have had difficulty in handling them. All signs point to the best and most interesting ring encounter New Yorkers have had an opportunity to see since the repeal of the Horton law.

Naturally Gans is the favorite. The little, powerful chocolate-colored veteran who holds two championships, the light and welter weight, and he has been a persistent challenger for the middleweight belt that Jack O'Brien now holds. He is the favorite in this fight, but it may be another case of the short and casting. The best illustration of what Gans thinks of Lewis is that he has demanded that Lewis make 112 pounds, notwithstanding that he offered to fight Ryan or O'Brien at 135 pounds. Gans watched Lewis work with Billy Elmer at the benefit for the "Frisco" sufferers last Sunday, and after the show hunted up Harry Pollock and said: "Lewis is much faster and tougher than I at first gave him credit for being. You tell Lewis he will have to make 112 pounds."

Those who hold that Gans will win point to his experience, his ring generalship, his science and his punch. Willie Lewis lacks Gans' experience, but he has been an apt pupil, and he, too, has a punch. In addition he has something that goes a long way toward helping a boxer win—courage. When the proposition to box Gans was made to him he accepted without a second of hesitation. He is no more afraid of Gans than he is of his sparring partner. His condition is superb. Gans
